

the archive we live in

CROSSROADS OF STRUGGLES
ACCOUNTS, LISTENING, TRACES

A participatory project that builds an audio archive of stories of struggle. Come and enter the archive to meet others, to meet yourself. Come and build the archive, draw out the fabric of the struggles that bind us, the moments of resistance that build us, that bring us together.

What are your acts of struggle?

Whether they are small daily gestures, life choices, ways of dressing, the books that have touched you, activists engagements or protests on the public stage, come and record your accounts, moments of resistance, your stories of struggle.

the archive we live in is an artistic and participatory research project initiated by Laura Oriol and supported by the Vlaamse Gemeenschapscommissie

→ WHAT IS YOUR FIRST MOMENT OF RESISTANCE TO CAPITALISM?

→ WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU TOOK CARE OF SOMEONE?

→ DESCRIBE YOUR FIRST FEMINIST ACT.

→ WHAT WAS YOUR GRANDMA'S STRUGGLE?

Join us for moments activation of the archive where we will feed it stories, dialogues and your intimate and political testimonies.

Each event will propose a reflection on the struggle and the diversity of its forms then an invitation to register for the archive to grow.
